Benefits of Sponsoring at AWMA!!

- Advertising your services to a diverse environmental public and private industry
- Showing Support for technology and regulatory advancement of the industry
- Continuing to support the AWMA Annual Conference and Statewide Programs

The AWMA Florida Section is expecting an extraordinary turnout for its 55th Annual Technical Conference being held on October 29-30, 2019, at the Florida State University Turnbull Conference Center in Tallahassee, Florida. The conference will offer many exciting technical presentations by leaders in their fields, covering a broad range of the hottest issues with participation and presentations by representatives of the Florida Department of Environmental Protection. The conference has been specifically designed to enhance opportunities for networking and discussion with experts on a variety of topics.

We are expecting a large turnout this year for attendees from state and local environmental agencies, from the energy and manufacturing sectors, as well as academic and environmental professionals. To support participants who are professors, government officials, and students, and we offer reduced registration fees and waivers, and we would appreciate your support to help make this possible. As a sponsor, you will ensure their valued participation at our Annual Conference, which is important for a robust and meaningful discussion of emerging topics.

Turnbull Center

The Section also uses sponsorship funds to provide scholarships to students who represent the Section at competitions held at the International Conference and for Section leadership training. As a sponsor of the 55th Annual Conference, you will be given an opportunity to reach out to all of those attending through a display in the exhibition area, and the Section will recognize your company at the conference and through the Section's website.

Please make plans to participate in the conference this year and to support the AWMA Florida Section as a sponsor. The Section sincerely appreciates your consideration of this request, and we hope you are able to join us in October!
